The Career Futures computer program provides middle school students with a tool for career development. It leads students through a series of interactive activities which demonstrate how interests, education, earnings, and skills relate to future careers. Career Futures provides a database of over 650 O*NET occupations with extensive information about each. It suggests high school courses that incorporate career pathways and provides an electronic portfolio to help students put it all together.

Career Futures is in compliance with the National Career Development Guidelines, the American School Counselor Association standards, and the regulations of the Rhode Island Department of Elementary and Secondary Education.
